

Good morning, Church. Daily Reading, Proverbs 14.

Psalm 63:3-4 "Because your steadfast love is better than life, my lips will praise you.

So I will bless you as long as I live;
in your name I will lift up my hands." (ESV)

Recently, I hosted an event at church for our Seasoned Saints (aka Empty Nesters) to come together to pray for our children, younger church members, and new church leaders. During the event, Mark L. asked if he could share a praise on how God protected him during a severe traffic accident a number of years ago.

After his testimony, many shared praises themselves, while others said we need to have more occasions for individuals to praise God.

Yesterday, I shared how God is there for us and watches over us, providing for our needs. Right after my message, I received this text and testimony from Doria. "In keeping that God provides. Sarah works nightly in Paso for Echo. She called this morning because her car was overheating, but when she turned on the heater, only cold air came out. Through calls to John and John's contacts through work, someone who could look at the car was just around the corner. They determined that they could not fix the problem and the car needed to be towed. Right next to the shop where Sarah was at is an AAA office. She went over there to request a tow to bring the car to SLO. God provides! It always seems like when our hearts are centered on Christ, these things happen that glorify God. We just need to remember to thank him for providing all of our needs." (Used with her permission)

There are those who say this was just a coincidence. I say it was God's protection and provisions. If you have a testimony of praise, I would like to share those next week in my morning texts. If you send them, I can share them. Please keep them short enough for me to send out.

Happy Friday. I hope you are in church this Sunday.
